

Dr Chan Siew Pheng

Consultant Endocrinologist

MBBS (Mal), FRCP (Edinburgh), AM (Malaya)

Dr SP Chan is currently Consultant Endocrinologist at Subang Jaya Medical Centre. She also holds a Visiting Professorship at the Department of Medicine, University of Malaya Medical Centre, Kuala Lumpur.

As an academician, she has conducted research in the field of Diabetes, Endocrinology and Osteoporosis. She has been involved in Phase 2 and 3 clinical drug trials in diabetes, dyslipidaemia and osteoporosis, as well as investigator initiated research on aspects of T2DM, gestational diabetes mellitus, metabolic syndrome as well as vitamin D status in the Malaysian population. She has played a key role in establishing the diabetes education programmes in the University of Malaya, Kuala Lumpur, training healthcare professionals in diabetes management.

She is a member of several taskforce for the development of Malaysian Clinical Practice Guidelines on Management of Type 2 diabetes mellitus, cardiovascular disease as well as osteoporosis. She has been invited to sit on various Advisory Boards on Diabetes at the local level as well as regional (Asia-Pacific). She is the Co-Chairperson of the Taskforce for the Malaysian Clinical Guidance for Management of Osteoporosis, Revised 2015.

She has published papers in International and Regional journals during her career as a Medical Professional and has been invited to speak at National and International Diabetes, Endocrine and Metabolic Conferences.